

Most Livable Beachside Communities for 2019

Naples ranks as No. 1 beach town to live in

That's according to a study by WalletHub, a personal-finance website.

The data used for the study included everything from housing costs to water quality.

Nearby Marco Island ranked 47th on the list of best beach towns to live in. Meanwhile, Bonita Springs landed at 66th.

The top 10 included several other waterfront communities in Florida: Boca Raton (5th), Sarasota (6th) and Venice (10th).

In order to determine the best beach towns in America, WalletHub compared cities based on metrics that fell into six categories: affordability, safety, weather, economy, education and health, and quality of life.

Lahaina, Hawaii ranked second with a score of 62.81.